Bearcats Tangle With Springfield Tomorrow Eve

North Conference Battle for Maryville; Bears Have Strong Team

PT. SIPES WILL SEE ACTION

The Bearcats will resume conference hostilities tomorrow night against the strong Springfield Teachers team. The game will be played at the College gym starting at 8 P.M.

Coach Wilbur Stalcup has been giving his charges hard all week in an effort to improve the passing and strengthen the defense. Squad is in good shape with the exception of Sipes who is recovering from a foot sprain. However, he is expected to be improved enough to service against the Bears.

Springfield boasts a big veteran with an impressive early season record. Among their victims is Pittsburg Teachers, also beaten by Maryville on two occasions by close scores.

Student Forum is in Favor of Keeping College Dance Band

Question of Maintaining Orchestra Is Discussed at Second Open Meeting

That the majority of students in the College are in favor of maintaining the College dance orchestra was the opinion expressed last Thursday morning in Recreation Hall at the second meeting this year of the Student Forum, composed of organization presidents and other students.

Pres. Uel W. Lamkin and Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith, director of women's activities, were present at the discussion which was led by John Zuchowski, St. Joseph, student president.

President Lamkin explained the purposes and functions of the College dance band. He explained that the orchestra, in former years and at present, offers several men in the College a job to aid in their education.

The College dance band this year, President Lamkin said, began from the bottom, and members are being paid 35c per hour for practice and 50c per hour for dances. The dance band fund from the student activity fee cannot exceed $105 per month.

President Lamkin also said that the dance orchestra would play free at school affairs where every student in the College, who cared to, could come and dance. Organizations, however, are required to pay for the band.

Interest is Shown In Approaching Talk of Mary Ellen Chase

American Novelist Will Speak in Auditorium Monday Night; Many Read Her Books

Upon the suggestion made recently by Pres. Uel W. Lamkin, several students in the College have checked out books from the local book store written by Mary Ellen Chase so that they, through her novels, may be better acquainted with her when she lectures Monday evening in the auditorium in the major entertainment for the Winter quarter.

Miss Chase, famous American novelist, will be presented at 8 o'clock Monday evening. Students are requested to secure reserved seats by presenting activity cards at Kuchs Bros., jewelry.

The famous novelist comes to this campus highly recommended in press reports and addresses. At present, Miss Chase is a member of the English faculty at Smith college.

Senate Attacks Violations of Assembly, Literary Rules

DIETERICH ANNOUNCES NEW STUDY HALL TEACHERS

Mr. Herbert R. Dieterich, principal of the College high school announced last Monday that the following people would keep study hall for the second six weeks of the Winter quarter: 8 o'clock, Bruce Coffman; 9 o'clock, Earl Holt; 10 o'clock, Rosalie Busby; 11 o'clock, Dorothy Young and Harold Penwell; 1 o'clock, Mary Peck and Carmen Lawrence; 2 o'clock, Gara Williams; 3 o'clock, Lewis Trotter; 4 o'clock, Edwardena Harrison.

Art Club Practices Drawing from Model In Meeting Jan. 17

Pencils, Water Colors, Charcoal Are Used to Sketch Pictures

The Art Club discovered in its last meeting, Monday night, Jan. 17, that drawing from a model has a fascination which drawing from a cast cannot equal.

This meeting was the first one at which drawing from a model was used as entertainment, and several members expressed a desire to try this form of entertainment again in the near future. Practically every member was in Room 401 promptly at 7:30 o'clock with his materials ready. Various materials—pencil, water-color, and charcoal—were used.

The models posed for over an hour altogether, resting at intervals.

In order to sketch from a model, one must sketch much more quickly than when sketching a cast. It is necessary to catch the fundamental lines and place them on the paper, since it is so difficult for the model to maintain and hold the original position for any great length of time.

Several new members were present at the last meeting.

Makes Appeal to Students for an Observance of Their Own Regulations

DISCUSSES LIBRARY COURTESY

The Student Senate opened an attack on violations of assembly traditions at its meeting held last Thursday night. The proper method of exit and the correct seating arrangement were the principal subjects of discussion.

Also in for its share of regret were the disturbances in the library and the cluttering of the floor and desks with torn paper.

The Senate decided to request the students through the columns of the Missourian to be more considerate of others in the library and to observe the following rules concerning assembly.

Seniors sit at the front of the center section.

Freshmen sit in the east or right hand section.

The west section is reserved for faculty members and College High school students.

At the close of the assembly period, faculty members and seniors leave the assembly hall first. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen remain seated until the faculty and seniors have departed, then the juniors follow, followed in order by the sophomores and then the freshmen.

College Men Defeat Five Debate Teams In Kansas Meet

Eliminated by Springfield, Final Tournament Winners, in Elimination Contests

Harold Bruggeman and Frank Strong, both veteran Maryville high school debaters had five winnings to their credit in the Pittsburg, Kas., tournament last week end. Strong and Bruggeman were one of the eight teams out of the thirty-four entered to remain undefeated in the first five rounds of non-elimination debates.

These two men, both freshmen at the College defeated Independence, Fort Scott, Parsons, Coffeyville and Pittsburg, which made them eligible to compete in the elimination tournament. They were defeated in the first debate of this elimination by Springfield Teachers, the final winners of the tournament.

Kenneth Harper, Fort Morgan, Colo., and Stuart Queen, St. Louis, defeated another Parsons, Kas., team in the fourth round of the first day's debating.

The following Maryville teams were entered in the Pittsburg meet: Harold Bruggeman and Frank Strong, Kenneth Harper, Stuart Queen and Jean Schnelder, Stanberry, and Maxine Prewitt, Smithville and Virginia Gibson, St. Joseph. J. P. Kelly, debate coach at the College, accompanied the group.

Jack Alsbaugh, a graduate of the College in the class of 1936, visited here last week. He is at present a proof reader and a head-line writer on the staff of the St. Joseph News-Press in St. Joseph.

... The President Says ...

The registrar's office is the student's "bank." For each course completed he receives credit—expressed not in dollars but in credit hours. When the total reaches 120 and is of certain denominations the student receives a certificate of deposit showing his total accumulations and giving him certain rights and privileges.

But there are other things more important and significant than how much money a man has in a bank. How did he make it? Does his fortune show a streak of luck, or does it represent careful planning and hard work? What is he going to do with his money, now that he has it? What worth while can he do with it, if in earning it he has not developed the attitudes which must determine his actions in spending it?

And the College is trying to answer similar questions about the earning of the credit which is put opposite the student's name in the student's "bank." When a "Pass" is given—and 2.5 semester hours are recorded as completed and accredited—the necessary mechanical entries are made. But in addition a record is being compiled as to the quality of the work done, as to the initiative and resourcefulness shown, as to the response which follows suggestion, as to the earnestness and faithfulness of the effort made, as to whether the student has measured up to the best in him, in earning the arbitrary but at present expedient credit in semester hours.

The comments on the supplementary record—written just as truly by the student as the credit hours upon the registrar's books—are a much truer statement of the student's work and worth, and will be valued more by persons seeking to employ desirable graduates.

Without Capt. Sipes Maryville Loses to Cape Team 16-20

Second Conference Tilt Finds Locals
Off Stride; Shrout Is High Point Man

Playing without the services of Capt. Donald Sipes, the Bearcats lost their first game against conference competition last Saturday night at Cape Girardeau when they dropped a 20 to 16 decision to the Cape Girardeau Teachers.

Without Sipes, the locals were off stride and failed to run their plays with precision. Sipes sustained a painful foot sprain in the first half of the Maryville-Rolla game the night before when he was thrown against a wall by two Rolla players while going into the air after the ball. He is expected to be in playing condition by tomorrow night when Springfield invades the lair of the Bearcats.

Cape jumped into a lead of 11 to 6 at the end of the first half, chiefly through their ability to connect from the field. The Indians were good for five of thirteen field goal attempts in the first period. Maryville outscored their opponents by one point in the second half but the attack always bogged down every time it seemed to be getting up steam.

The play was slow throughout with both sides feeling the tenseness of the occasion. Cape Girardeau has an experienced, well-coached team and seemed to rise to meet every situation in this contest. It was Cape's third successive victory.

Bearcats Win from Kirksville Bulldogs In Lopsided Battle

Paced by Hackett, Maryville Routs
Visitors 38 to 23; Never Lost Lead

Leading all the way, the Bearcats beat the Kirksville Bulldogs in a conference basketball game at the College gym last Tuesday night by a score of 38 to 23. After the first few minutes of play, the outcome was evident. Led by Hackett who scored Maryville's first nine points, the 'Cats dominated the play through the first half and were out in front at that point, 21 to 6.

Playing without Donald Sipes, who is out with a foot injury, the young Maryville team passed up many scoring opportunities. Especially in the second half did the attack of the locals seem to bog down. During the first five minutes after the intermission, the visitors scored six points before Maryville found the range.

Bob Rogers and Dale Hackett tied for high scoring laurels, each tallying eleven points. Hackett scored all his points in the first half when he rang up four field goals and three free throws in quick succession. Rogers' tallies were the result of two field goals and seven gift tosses.

The Bearcats covered the Kirksville plays like a blanket. In the first half the visitors were held to one field goal. The second half found them hitting from far out and the free toss line to score seventeen points in that period.

In a preliminary game the Bearcat B team led by Russell Dowell, won over the Conception College Bluebirds 26 to 19. Dowell played an outstanding defensive game besides leading the scoring with twelve points. The junior 'Cats lead all the way and never were in much danger.

Bearcats Win First Conference Game from Rolla Miners

Maryville Makes M. I. A. A. Debut
by Defeating Miners
38 to 14

The Bearcats made their conference debut last Friday night against the Rolla Miners with an easy 38 to 14 win. The game was played at Rolla.

Maryville led all the way, rolling up a 17 to 6 lead at the halftime. The tall Maryville players were too much for the Miners. At no time could the Miners keep pace.

Richard "Dick" Shrout, Maryville forward, led the scorers accounting for eleven points with five field goals and one free toss. Bob Rogers, Bearcat guard, followed closely with five goals from the field. Jack Salmon also figured in the high scoring with nine points on two field goals and five charity tosses. None of the losers could score more than four points.

Sipes, Maryville captain, sustained an injury of the right foot during the first half when he was pushed against a wall while in the air after a loose ball. He was unable to continue play.

Dieterich Attends High School Grid Rules Meeting

Important Changes Are Made in Football Regulations at Chicago Conference

Mr. Herbert R. Dieterich, principal of the College high school, attended the annual meeting of the National High School Football Rules Committee, Jan. 7-9 in Chicago, Ill., as the representative from Missouri.

Mr. Dieterich reported that since the meeting last year three states, Idaho, Montana, and New Mexico, have officially adopted national rules for all high school contests. This makes a total of twenty state adoptions. These twenty states have a total membership of approximately 10,000 high schools.

Following are some of the more important actions relative to the rules for football during the year 1938:

1. It was voted that if during any kick there is a foul between the time the ball is kicked and the time it is touched by the receivers, the penalty for the foul, shall be the usual distance penalty from the previous spot (instead of loss of ball at the spot of the foul).

2. The committee also voted to make the penalty for an illegal shift five yards instead of fifteen yards. This will eliminate several complicated situations where, heretofore, the officials had to determine whether the foul was for an illegal shift or for backs in motion.

3. The question of whether the kick after safety could be made from a side zone has given rise to much difference of opinion. The new rule will make it possible to cover all of those situations with one simple statement.

4. Several years ago when it was decided to remove the distance penalty for a second incomplete during a series, the interscholastic editors prescribed that this should apply when the incompleteness was in the end zone as well as when it was in the scrimmage zone. However, when the matter was brought up for discussion the committee voted that while they agreed with the principle they thought it best not to make a difference in this respect from the collegiate and professional codes. The committee voted that a minor incompleteness (anywhere) can not result in a touchback except on fourth down.

SPRINGFIELD DRUM CORPS TO ACCOMPANY TEAM HERE

A forty piece drum corps from the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College in Springfield, will accompany the school's Bears when they

Members of the drum corps will remain in Maryville all night, returning to Springfield Saturday morning.

The Story of THE KITE AND THE KEY

Nearly two hundred years ago, a certain well-known American Colonist successfully completed an experiment which since has become one of the fundamental foundation points upon which a great industry has been based. Almost everyone is familiar with the story of the kite and the key, and how Benjamin Franklin with these simple aids, transmitted electrical impulses from the atmosphere through the metal-tipped kite, down the string to the metal key at its end from which electrical sparks were given off. This experiment proved Franklin's theory of electricity in motion and formed the basis for many experiments to follow, eventually leading to the perfection of electrical transmission.

It is this man of vision whose birthday the world celebrates this week, for on January 17, 1706, Benjamin Franklin was born. Today the world is a better place in which to live because of the many contributions he made during his lifetime. The development of the electrical industry alone is a notable example of what has come of his early efforts.

Benjamin Franklin, the author of the electricity in motion theory, is also regarded as the father of thrift in America. From generation to generation has passed his thoughts on this subject as he so individually expressed them, writing in his "Poor Richard's Almanack." His thrift theory was not based on hoarding but rather on wise spending and prudent investment. Could he have lived until this modern day, he would have roundly endorsed the beneficial savings made possible in today's standard of living through the development of another of his theories—the medium of cheap electricity.

WE LOSE TWO FACULTY MEMBERS

Word came to the College last week of the resignation of two of its members, Dr. J. C. Miller, dean of the faculty, and Mr. T. A. Gauldin, director of publicity and sponsor of THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN. It was a blow to the entire student body and faculty when the two men announced that they would follow their professions at other places.

It does not seem so long ago since Dr. Miller came to our campus from Christian College in Columbia, where he will return as president the first of next month. Since that time—two and one-half years ago—Dr. Miller has made friends with every faculty member and student and people outside the College with whom he has come into contact.

Immediately, upon his arrival here, he made a favorable and lasting impression upon his associates and all who came to know him. If ever a student had occasion to see Dr. Miller in his office, that student was always greeted with a "How do you do. Come in and have a seat," or some other friendly greeting. If ever a student met Dr. Miller in the hall, that student was greeted in a cheery and heartfelt manner. All of these things, and many others, have made Dr. Miller highly liked and respected by every student in the College.

The other member who has announced his resignation, to become effective March 1, is Mr. T. A. Gauldin, who will leave this institution for Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Gauldin has, since his coming here last year, been virtually a guiding hand for the staff of THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN. To him the staff could take its most intricate problems, and he has always rendered advice to the best of his ability. Like Dr. Miller, Mr. Gauldin has made friends with every student and faculty member with whom he has come into contact.

This newspaper—speaking for the entire College—expresses to these two men our sincere appreciation for having had the opportunity of working with them, and in wishing them prosperity and happiness in their future undertakings.

EUROPEAN STUDENTS LOOK TO U. S.

In times past, European students have been held up to American students as a sort of pattern by which they should cut themselves out, educationally. But in the past few years, the tide has turned, and European students are now looking to America for leadership in democracy and freedom.

The above facts are not difficult to understand. Europe, no doubt, has some of the finest institutions of learning in the world with some of the most outstanding professors of the various fields employed there. Perhaps rightly so, Americans have been instructed to become as much like the European students as possible.

In the past few years, however, and especially in the countries of Europe which have been afflicted with the Fascist government, the educational facilities have fallen into the charge of dictators or powerful agencies or officers of the government. Students in those lands have been deprived of many of their privileges which we Americans deem almost necessary for a student's well-being in the educational field or in the process of acquiring an education.

Since those students have been deprived of their rightful privileges and freedom, they are, in a measure, handicapped to further their causes in their respective Fascist countries. Naturally, deprived of these things, they cannot expect to push themselves into leading positions in many walks of life. As a result, they now glance to the other side of the "big Pond" for leadership in fields not open to them.

It is difficult to predict just what country's students would be looked to for leadership if our nation were Fascist along with many of the countries of Europe.

As students of America, then, we should be thankful for our nation where freedom of expression is prevalent, and we should so equip ourselves as to not disappoint the deprived students of the world whose eyes are on us, in our future leadership.

STUDENT PRIVILEGES

College editors and students all over the nation are constantly fighting for the exercise of students' rights and privileges, but rarely have they pointed out just what those things actually are. The National Student Federation of America, in its thirteenth annual Congress in Albuquerque last month, drew up a set of what it believed to be almost universally accepted as students' privileges.

It should be understood that it is not the duty of student councils, which are representatives of the students in the nation, to support anything which is reasonably opposed by the college administrations. Councils should work toward a closer cooperation between faculty and student administration in furthering an intelligent student opinion on questions of local, national, and international scope.

The following recommendations were endorsed by the congress as privileges of students in any institution:

1. The privilege to have democratic student government.
2. The privilege of students to maintain on the campus freedom of expression on any topic, particularly in the forum and columns of the college newspaper.
3. The privilege of the students to express contrary opinions concerning conclusions to be drawn from such evidence as is presented in class, without suffering any penalties therefrom, so long as such expression is within reason.
4. The privilege of students to representation at faculty and administrative meetings at which interests of students in general are under consideration.
5. The privilege of students to suggest and recommend in regard to the determination and revision of the curriculum.
6. The privilege of students to participate in the settlement of disciplinary cases that arise in college life.

CAMPUS COMMENT

In a few weeks, the College is offering its women the opportunity to receive, free of charge, a course in the work of the Campfire Girl organization. This is perhaps a greater opportunity for the women here than they at first realize, for it may even assist them in securing a better position in the future. Wherever a teacher may go, he will find that there are certain extra-curricular activities which he is expected to perform in addition to his teaching, and the more he is acquainted with these activities, the better prepared he is for the position. Women here, therefore, in order to further their education, should take advantage of this opportunity.

The Stroller

'Tis rumored that June Ernst, student who swings a wicked violin bow, was calling up her boy friend the other evening for a very important business and pleasure call. On such an occasion, a girl would expect a nice, friendly "Hello" from the other end of the line, but what should she, to her utter amazement, hear but "Well, you paid the nickel, now say something." Oh, well, they said things like that would happen.

A sign on a nearby church announcement caused considerable attention the other day. The announcement read that the pastor's sermon topic would be: HAVE YOU EVER BEEN IN HELL? And right beneath that, the sign read: COME IN AND HEAR OUR CHOIR.

A certain chaplain of a certain fraternity on this campus conducted a song service at the College Y.W.-C.A. meeting the other evening. I suppose the chaplain was the only boy in attendance, since it was a Y. W. meeting. At any rate, said chaplain did not return home until 11:30 that night, and I was wondering if the girls at the meeting enjoyed his conducting until that late, or what?

I noticed a hunting scene the other day entitled "The Chase." Have you ever seen the picture, John Scott and Suitcase Simpson?

Item in last week's STC Ramblings: "Advice to Young Men: Don't fuss with your dormitory sweetheart before the Residence Hall dance." What is the procedure when you don't have any special dormitory sweetheart, Tom Boyd, Miller Weeda, Bob Mitchell? Whatever the procedure, it seems to work in some cases, doesn't it Iola Argo, Gloria Santos?

Faculty members have been referred to by various monikers, but two new ones on us were referred to in an up-town conversation one evening last week. Two strange girls, we know not who, asked to be introduced to "Tall and slender" and "Short and dumpy."

Wild west and mystery magazines are often very exciting, but how educational, Mary Louise Turner, Kavon Schulte and Kenny Manifold?

Margaret McLaughlin, the pretty little blond actress, acts very well on the stage, as proved by the recent production in the College assembly. How does she act with you, Merrill Ostrus?

They tell us that one good thing about a radio is that when we get tired of listening, we can turn it off. Hello, Willie Heal!

When an instructor explains a thing and a student doesn't understand, it isn't so bad. But when a teacher explains and then draws a picture on the board, and Eddie Gickling still doesn't understand, that is very bad.

Ethel Hester is a charter member of the STC movie colony, according to the movies shown in assembly the other week. She does make a good actress, doesn't she, students? And the gold fish showed up well, too.

They say a white man's face never turns red, but several instances on the campus have proven that adage untrue. One of the most interesting examples occurred over at Residence Hall at dinner last Friday night. It has not been discovered whether someone was trying to play a game, or whether the spirits had been aroused that night, but at any rate, Carmen Lawrence, new door locker of the Hall, became quite excited and, indeed, her face turned a bit crimson. By some strange means, just as everyone was quietly engaged at dinner, the spontaneous release of the drawer in the cash register so frightened Carmen that she jumped fully as high as the ceiling in the dining hall. But the mystery remains, "Who opened the cash register the night of Jan. 14?"

Bernie McLaughlin is evidently becoming studious. At least he is doing a lot of Finking these days.

Max, why don't you cut the high school acts? You know she has the home boy friend besides the college competition.

Orchids to the Barkatze for sponsoring one swell dance—and a dog kennel to the person or persons who were low enough to cast a reflection on the entire Barkatze organization by pulling that dirty trick.

Zuck and Freddie surely look better now. They are slowly recovering from that trip down South. Oh, but those Spanish foods (?)

Mary Powell was telling me the other day that she hadn't had much fun since the lights went out at the dorm about 2 years ago.

Don't worry, folks, it was just a family quarrel between Benny Brown and Virginia Page. Nobody got hurt, and the fight was declared a draw. Come around, folks, and see the next one.

It's sure tough on Liz Wright now that Goza has to go home when the other boys do. She doesn't lod the dorm any more.

NSFA Elects Woman President, for First Time in History

Mary Jeanne McKay of Florida Is Unanimously Selected Head of National Student Group

Mary Jeanne McKay, Florida State College for Women, was unanimously elected president of the National Student Federation of America at its thirteenth annual Congress held last month in Albuquerque, N. M. She is the first woman to hold the office, succeeding Arthur Northwood, Jr. of New York City.

Lyle Saunders, University of New Mexico editor who served as chairman of the Congress held last month, was elected vice-president of the Federation, and Gardiner Pollich, University of Southern California, was elected treasurer. All officers were elected unanimously.

In addition to the national officers, three executive committeemen were selected, as follows: K. M. Crosby, University of Mississippi; Albert Wichrich, University of Arizona; and Joyce Gale, Hunter College, New York City.

To supplement the above committee, regional chairmen were selected. From the New England region, Frank Bartino of Clark University was chosen; from the Middle Atlantic region, Carl Beer of New York School of Commerce; from the Southeastern section, George McCarty of the University of Florida; from the Southern section, George Neblett of the University of Mississippi; from the East Central region, James Carney of Depaw University; from the West Central region, W. HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

"AT AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profits. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it."

"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacco experts. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer.

Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Majority of U. S. Presidents Had Some College Training

By MARVIN COX
(Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

Washington, D. C.—How many presidents of the United States received college training, and what colleges did they attend? Your Washington correspondent did a little research to answer these questions and emerged from the encyclopedias with the following facts:

Of the seven most famous presidents, excluding the present incumbent of the White House, only three, amazingly enough, went to college. George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and Grover Cleveland received no college training. Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, the remaining two of the seven most famous, were highly educated. Roosevelt I was graduated from Harvard and Wilson from Princeton, Virginia and Johns Hopkins. Thomas Jefferson attended William and Mary.

No Alibis Needed

In the days of Washington and Jackson there were fewer colleges and attendance was more difficult than in later years. In the case of Lincoln, as every schoolboy knows, abject poverty made formal education impossible, and Cleveland seems to have had little opportunity for college work—not, however, that any of these men need alibis.

Despite the lack of college training five of this group of seven, the vast majority of American presidents did attend college, about 70 per cent to be exact. Since Cleveland's time all of them could lay claim to college training in some degree.

Twenty-Two Alumni

Twenty-two out of the 31 presidents could, at least, qualify as college alumni.

Wilson was the most highly educated of them all. He received his A.B. from Princeton, his degree in law from the University of Virginia and a Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins.

Former President Hoover was one of the first students at Stanford and President Franklin Roosevelt received an A.B. from Harvard and an LL.B. from Columbia. On several occasions he has also received the third degree from Congress and the Supreme Court.

Caused Dispute

Andrew Jackson, who had almost no formal education, nevertheless received a degree from the oldest college in the land. History has it that this caused a severe dispute among the more conservative officials, but Harvard did grant him an honorary degree.

Students at smaller colleges can take heart from the fact that some of the less widely known institutions gave the country a number of presidents. Dickinson College, for example, produced President Buchanan; Hampden-Sydney, William Henry Harrison; Union, Chester A. Arthur, and Allegheny, William McKinley. Rutherford B. Hayes attended Kenyon before going to Harvard for his law course.

The Record

To get down to the record, however, here is a list of the presidents of the United States and their respective colleges, if any.

George Washington, none; John Adams, Harvard; Jefferson, William and Mary; Madison, Princeton; Monroe, William and Mary; John Quincy Adams, Harvard; Jackson, none; Van Buren, none; William Henry Harrison, Hampden-Sydney; John Tyler, William and Mary; James K. Polk, University of North Carolina; Zachary Taylor, none; Millard Fillmore, none; Franklin

Pierce, Bowdoin; James Buchanan, Dickinson; Lincoln, none; Johnson, none; Grant, West Point; Hayes, Kenyon College and Harvard; James A. Garfield, Williams; Chester A. Arthur, Union; Grover Cleveland, none; Benjamin Harrison, Miami University; William McKinley, Allegheny; Theodore Roosevelt, Harvard; William H. Taft, Yale and Cincinnati Law School; Wilson, Princeton, Virginia and Johns Hopkins; Harding, Ohio Central College; Coolidge, Amherst; Hoover, Stanford; Franklin Roosevelt, Harvard and Columbia Law School.

The second graders have begun to study milk products. Tuesday afternoon they made a visit to the Center Milk Products Co. They will study such products as butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed milk and animal feeds.

Monday morning the third graders, who are starting on a Pioneer unit, toured Maryville, visiting historical points such as the first house, store, bank, and other places of interest.

SECOND HALF OF WAA TOURNEY HAS BEGUN

Two games of the second half of the preliminary basketball tournament of the WAA were played on January 13, at the College gymnasium. The first was played between Virginia Gibson, St. Joseph; and Mary Wurster, Lenox, Ia. The game was won by Gibson's team. The final score being 28-8.

Marjorie Farmer, Cambria, Iowa, was high point player, making 9 field goals.

The second game was between Ruth Goodspeed, Maryville, and Lillian Combs, Corning, Ia. Goodspeed won the hard fought battle by a score of 13-12. Stafford ranked highest scorer making two field goals and one free throw. Combs scored three field goals and one free throw.

Monday evening, January 17, the final game of the preliminary tournament was played. This was between Goodspeed and Gibson's teams. Spectators witnessed another fast and hard fought game. Goodspeed was victorious by a narrow margin of 10-9. Dorothy Graham was high scorer, securing three field goals and one free throw. Virginia Gibson and Betty Oliver, Dearborn, each tied for goals on their team.

C.H.S. RATES HIGH IN DEBATE TOURNEY

Debate teams from Atchison, Kas., won the trophy given to the school whose teams finished with the highest per cent of victories in the tournament held at St. Joseph Central high school last Saturday.

The College high school debate teams, coached by Dr. Joseph P. Kelly, chairman of the department of speech in the College, took part in the debates. The local high school team was accompanied to St. Joseph by Mr. Herbert R. Dieterich, principal of the high school.

Two College high school teams, composed of Dick Collins and Jack Garrett and Dean Duff and Herschel Bryant, won second place in the tournament. The former team won three debates and lost none, while the latter team won two debates and lost two. Herschel Bryant was given a rating of honorable mention for his performances.

Says Fifty Per Cent of Mental Diseases May Be Prevented

Helen H. Sala of Columbia Talks on Mental Hygiene at College Monday

"Fifty per cent of all mental diseases could be prevented by use of information that we already have at hand," declared Helen H. Sala of Columbia, executive secretary of the Missouri Association for Mental Hygiene, in a talk which she gave before a group of College classes Monday morning. Mrs. Sala was here to promote the organization of a Nodaway County Mental Hygiene Association and spoke at the College assembly, at the Men's Forum, at a meeting of school administrators and at the South Methodist church.

In her College talk, Mrs. Sala said, "There has been a great change in the attitude of people toward folks who have had mental disorders. It was not so long ago that they were considered as individuals who were possessed with demons or devils, while today most of the mental hospitals are humane and efficient."

More Mental Patients

"Today, there are more hospital beds occupied by mental patients than all the physically ill patients occupy. In 1920 there were 50,000 first admissions to mental hospitals, while in 1932 there were 89,742 first admissions. In the last twenty-seven years, mental patients have increased 122 per cent, while the population has increased only 40 per cent. At the present time, the mental hospitals have more patients than all the hospitals combined."

Origin in Childhood

"Most of the mental troubles have their origin in childhood, and with proper mental hygiene could be prevented before they reach a serious stage."

"It is true that mental hygiene is to a great extent just good common sense. However, we must be careful to recognize that much of what people call common sense is not scientific, and therefore, it is important that we have scientific information in treating mental disorders."

Discontinuing Use

"Mental disease is commonly called insanity. The medical profession is rapidly discontinuing the use of the word insanity, because this word means different things to different people, and because many associate disgrace with insanity. This, of course, is absolutely wrong, because insanity is an illness and not a disgrace. It is not punishment for wrong doing, and should be looked upon as any other disease or illness."

"Fifty per cent of all insanity is preventable and in some hospitals sixty per cent of the patients are cured. This, however, is not true in the Missouri State Hospitals, because in our state we have twice as many patients as the institutions can handle, and only one-tenth as many doctors as we should have in our State Hospitals."

Not Always Abnormal

"Those in mental hospitals are not always abnormal just as the people at large are not always normal. We usually think of people who are unable to make the most of their lives as being mentally maladjusted. They do not face reality. They cannot control themselves and live with others in a happy manner. Mental health is a state of well-being which radiates a wholesome personality and a happy disposition. Teachers can do much to prevent diseases by giving children a wholesome philosophy of life."

H. Cooper, instructor in the education department, received a letter from Loyd Hollar, graduate of the College, in which he stated that Hollar is now coach at the Jefferson High School in Columbia, Mo. Hollar was busily engaged in the basketball season. He had played two games and won both contests. He takes in men on each trip, and makes trips to Booneville, Centralia, Jefferson City and other places.

Hollar says that I haven't forgotten S. T. C. and the fellows there during my college days yesterday," Mr. Hollar said Santa comes and goes, but memories still linger on."

COLLEGE HAS NO DEGREES

Champaign, Ill.—(ACP)—A tiny college which has no buildings or gives no lectures and no degrees, is sending its graduates over the nation and the world to carry on an educational stressing development of ability.

The Graduate Teachers College is located here in 1932 for the purpose of training teachers in the progressive phases of education. It believes the way to learn is to teach.

Laboratories are class rooms in the schools of Winnetka and private institutions. Seminar sessions take the place of lectures. They are held in cooperating schools. Each student of the college has half of each day teaching in the co-operating schools under the supervision of the schools teachers.

Instead of granting degrees the college issues certificates which state what training their recipients had before entering, what experience in the laboratory schools and what seminars have been taken, along with a line or two concerning general ability.

Twenty Track Men Brave Cold Winds for Early Practice

Seven Lettermen Are Among the Group Reporting Daily at Gymnasium

Twenty men have reported to Coach Ryland Milner for track suits, although the first track meet is not until March, when the M.I.A.A. indoor meet is held in Columbia. The distance runners have been taking advantage of the mild winter weather by running outside. Bill McMullin, Robert Long, and Max Mudd, all distance runners, have been working out since last fall.

Of the twenty that have reported out for track Bill McMullin, John Tabor, Melvin Carter, Bernie McLaughlin, Frank Yourek, Norman Reital and Frank Baker are lettermen; Raymond Beedle, Robert Long, Lowell Jones, Ralph Morrow, August Sherman, and Henry Turner are members of last year's squad; Harry Darr, Orville Lance, Ben Neally, Thompson, Max Mudd, and John Green are freshmen.

Five outstanding members of last year's squad were lost by graduation. Those who graduated are Donald Francis, Walter Rulon, Paul Scott, Vernon Green, and Herschel Neil. The loss of these men will serve as somewhat of a handicap to the team, especially with the loss of Herschel Neil, Maryville's All-American.

COLLEGE FINANCES SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Colleges and universities throughout the United States registered gains in funds for education, general, and building purposes in 1936-37, Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker announced last week.

An Office of Education study of receipts and expenditures reported by more than 300 higher education institutions indicates that practically all colleges and universities suffered decreases in receipts from 1929-30 to 1933-34, but that receipts have increased steadily since 1933-34.

Expenditures for educational and general purposes climbed in 1931-32 to 12.4 per cent above the total reported for 1929-30. In 1933-34 there was a drop, to 3.9 per cent below the 1929-30 total, but by 1936-37, reports show, there had been another increase in colleges and university spending to 12.9 per cent above the 1929-30 level. Expenditures for new buildings, grounds, and equipment dropped sharply during the depression period. While they have increased very slowly, they are still 36.2 per cent below the high point reached in 1929-30. Colleges for Negroes took greater cuts and have improved their financial status more slowly than institutions attended by white persons.

The Office of Education report of college receipts and expenditures was prepared by Henry G. Badger, Associate Specialist in Educational Statistics and Frederick J. Kelly, Chief of the Division of Higher Education.

The Misses Leeson Wilson and Margaret Wilson spent Friday afternoon in St. Joseph before going to their home in Albany to spend the week-end.

Faith In God and Government is Need VanDevander Says

Methodist Minister Gives Church Views on Present Problems at Social Science Club

Rev. D. J. Vandevander, pastor of the First Methodist church in Maryville, addressed the College Social Science Club in its meeting last Monday night. His topic concerned the Protestant point of view on the social order.

Rev. VanDevander enumerated the chief concerns of the church at the present as follows:

1. There is a drift towards war. The churches, in some cases in the past, have been propagandists. For instance, they preached against the Germans during the World War.
2. There is a growth of Communism and Facism.
3. We are greatly concerned with the unequal distribution of wealth.
4. There is an increase of psychopathic cases.
5. We are drifting from religion.
6. The country is aware of the industrial war. The speaker stated that twenty-three women of the United States possess 70 per cent of the nation's wealth.
7. There is wide-spread talk concerning human personality.

I'm just a little prairie flower,
Growing wilder every hour.
Nobody loves me—I stink.

Mary had a small gold watch.
She swallowed it; it's gone.
And now wherever Mary walks,
Time marches on.

Under the mistletoe
The ugly maiden stood,
And stood and stood
And stood and stood.

I'm a tiny skunky brown
Playing all around the ground,
People treat me awful mean
Cause I ain't got no Listerine.

Many Persons See Human Adventure Movie at College

Many students and townspeople attended the A.A.U.W. movie, "Human Adventure," which was shown here in the auditorium last Thursday afternoon and evening.

The picture was the story of man's rise from savagery to civilization. The trip was made by airplane and pictures were taken in Egypt, Palestine and other countries of the Fertile Crescent in Asia Minor. The film showed excavations of great palaces and cities which were buried under many layers of earth.

By studying these buried cities and palaces, men of today are able to tell what the world was like more than 2,000 years ago.

The sound movie was produced by the Oriental Institute of Chicago under the direction of Dr. James H. Breasted, one of the most famous archeologists and historians. He gave a descriptive lecture along with the film.

Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin's Father Dies in Clinton

school in Virginia and Kentucky.

Mr. Dickinson, after being admitted to the Missouri bar in 1875, served as prosecuting attorney for three years and then served two terms in the Missouri legislature, one as a representative and one as a senator. In his tenth term in the national Congress, he became the oldest member of the House of Representatives.

On Mr. Dickinson's eighty-third birthday, Representative Dyer, Missouri, paid him the following respect: "He has served here for more than 20 years. Before that he served his country and his state with distinguished honor. He is loved and respected by all, regardless of politics." Champ Clark had stumped for Mr. Dickinson before he entered the house of Representatives.

Mr. Dickinson's chief interest was the ways and means committee of the House, of which he was a member.

Funeral services for Mr. Dickinson were held in Clinton Sunday afternoon.

Persons from the College, in addition to President and Mrs. Lamkin, who attended the services were Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, Miss Mary Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Norvel Sayler, Mr. R. E. Baldwin, Dr. J. W. Hake and Mr. A. H. Cooper. Dr. Jesse Miller, vice-president of the College board of regents, also attended the funeral.

MR. HORSFALL BACK SOON

Mr. Frank Horsfall of the department of horticulture in the College, has returned home and hopes to be back on duty next week. He recently had an appendix operation at the St. Francis Hospital here.

SAYS BRAIN FALLS TO SLEEP BY PARTS

New York City—(ACP)—Different parts of the brain "shut down for the night" ahead of others when you fall asleep. If your brain were electrically lighted it would look like the successive winking out of the lights in an office building. Five scientists, two of them from Harvard University, made this recent discovery by means of electrical tests.

Pea-sized electrodes pasted to the head picked up the faint electrical currents which flow from the head.

When one part of the brain went to sleep, the fact was apparent by a drop in the amount of electricity coming from that part of the brain. And when deep sleep came, the currents were reduced to a mere trickle.

These electrical changes showed up at the point when the would-be sleeper felt the familiar "floating" sensation.

GOSPEL TEAM TO MAKE TRIP

The Y.M.C.A. Gospel Team will go to St. Joseph and Stanberry, Sunday afternoon, January 23, and hold religious services at two churches at each place. The first service will be at Wyatt Park Christian church in St. Joseph, of which Julian Stuary is pastor, at 5 o'clock, and the evening service will be at the Christian church at Stanberry of which P. O. Nystrand is pastor. The College bus will leave at 3:30 o'clock from in front of the Daily Forum building.

WOMEN MAY NOW NAP

IN REDECORATED ROOM

The women's rest room on the third floor of the College was reopened last week after complete redecoration and general repair. Shades of rich tans have been used in the painting of walls and wood work and the floor has been done in warm gray. A harmonizing rug and gay curtains have been added to the furnishings and perhaps in the future something to improve the lighting may be arranged.

There were already six single cots, which have been painted, and their mattresses have been renovated. All the bed coverings and blankets have been cleaned and some new ones purchased. There are clean slips on all the pillows.

One of Sue Bell's artistic posters in blue and tan, which is on the wall, factfully reminds users that the facility is a "rest" room, not a place to study or visit or eat lunches. Room 224 is the only room in the College for eating lunches, the library is the place to study, and Recreation Hall is open for visiting.

As its name indicates, this rest room is a place of relaxation, and since it is for the women of the College, and they are cordially invited to make use of it, it is they who must determine its benefits.

Few colleges have a room so attractive and convenient for the of their students, which make one here the more an object which to be proud.

Waste paper baskets are provided to help keep the room clean, women availing themselves of the convenience of this room are to leave the beds and floor than when they entered.

The Varsity Villagers have these policies, and the College very much interested in observing

Chesterfield Features PLEASURE

Every cigarette features something . . .

Chesterfield features the one thing that really counts . . . pleasure. It all comes down to this: Chesterfields are made of mild ripe tobaccos . . . rolled in pure cigarette paper . . . the best that money can buy.

That's why Chesterfield's milder better taste will give you more pleasure.
